SOCIETY

Many Society Folk on Matsonia.

The big liner Matsonia which sailed this morning for California was crowded unusually with friends and well wishers of those starting on the long voyage. Such an assortment of leis and music and noise and bustle and tears and laughter as there was—not to mention the variety of smells from the sea water and sugar, flowers and fresh paint which are as much a part of steamer day as the hoarse blasts of the siren which sends one into nervous fits for fear the liner will sail before one has a chance to get ashore. The passenger list today was a long one, comprising many of the leading social lights of both Honolulu and mainland cities. Mrs. Ralph Wilcox of Kauai left to spend the summer months in California. She was accompanied by Miss Margaret Waterhouse, a popular society maid of Honolulu. Mrs. E. Bishop and Miss Ethel Bishop, formerly kamaainas in Hawaii but who now make their home in Berkeley, sailed for the college town after a six months' visit in the islands. Both mother and daughter were considerably feted during their visit, their old friends rejoicing in this happy reunion after their seven years' absence. Captain and Mrs. William Matson and their daughter, Miss Lurline Matson, also departed—the latter to prepare the pretty things of her trousseau. Her wedding to Mr. Will Roth of this city will take place in the summer. Miss Marion Mitchell and her sister, Miss Alice Mitchell, who have been at the Moana for the past six weeks, were others to return to their home in San Francisco. This makes the third visit to Hawaii of the former, the last one having been made three years ago when she was one of a group of Kappa Kappa Gamma girls who spent a month or more in the islands. Mrs. Charles Macaulay, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Riggs during the past six weeks, sailed for her home in Chicago. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Baumgartner of Oakland, who have been the incentives for many social affairs during their visit here, also sailed. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Joost returned to California on the last lap of their honeymoon. Mrs. C. B. Ripley and her daughter, Miss Iwaleia Ripley, were covered with leis, especially the latter who goes up to be married to Mr. Carl Edward Easter—the wedding to take place on April 18. Mrs. Frank Enos, who has been visiting Mrs. Montague Cooke, was also a departing passenger—her journey taking her across the continent to her home in New England.

Birthday Party for Master Rivenburgh

A very pretty birthday party was that at which Bertram G. Rivenburgh, Jr., entertained on Saturday afternoon in honor of his seventh anniversary. The park lodge was decorated in tones of pink and green, water lilies and ornamental grasses being gracefully arranged throughout the rooms. A tug-of-war and firecrackers set off by the winning team preceded a dip in the sea, and afterwards games were played on the lawn, the prizes being parasols tied with illusion satin bean bags and puzzles for the boys. At four the host and his guests repaired to a coconut grove in the grounds, where a palm-enclosed arai made a dainty refreshment booth, and here a long table sprinkled with flowers was decorated in pink, the ice.

THIS WOMAN'S SICKNESS

Quickly Yielded To Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Baltimore, Md. — "I am more than glad to tell what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I suffered dreadful pains and was very irregular. I became alarmed and sent for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it regularly until I was without a cramp or pain and felt like another person, and it has now been six months since I took any medicine at all. I hope my little note will assist you in helping other women. I now feel perfectly well and in the best of health." — Mrs. AUGUST W. KONNOR, 1632 Hollins Street, Baltimore, Md.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotic or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record of being the most successful remedy for female ills we know of, and thousands of voluntary testimonials on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., seem to prove this fact.

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

bon bons, place cards and favors prevailing in that shade. A large birthday cake formed the centerpiece and at each end of the table stood a basket of baby roses caught with tulle. A pretty feature was the lighting of the cake, when seven little girls and boys were chosen by the host to illuminate and extinguish the candles, each guest in turn expressing a wish for the future.

The favors for the girls were silk-clad Japanese baby dolls, and for the boys false mustachios, which created much merriment. Dancing on the lawn concluded the happy afternoon. The guests included Cecily Cunha, Virginia Watson, Isabel Plisterer, Nevada Hayward, Daphne Drinkwater, Helen Ellis, Rebecca McVeagh, Sibyl Davis, Peggy Harrison, Eva Gay, Beatrice Gay, Edna Morse, Geraldine Bockus, Tommy Stayton, Frederick Reynolds, Warren Bockus, Andrew Westervelt, Buddy Bockus, Bobby Styne, Norman Davis, Alfred Giles, Rupert Drinkwater and Norman Ellis.

The wedding of Miss Wattle Elizabeth Holt and John London Mears Jr., was quietly celebrated on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Taylor at the Hotel Bellevue, relatives of the bride. Both bride and groom were unattended. Miss Holt—a daughter of the late James R. Holt of Honolulu and a grand daughter of Mrs. Kamaka Stillman, one of the oldest families in the islands.

She is a graduate nurse, having taken her training at St. Francis hospital. It was there, during her student days, that she was called upon to care for Mears, who was a patient in the hospital a year ago.

The hours devoted to administering medicines and dispensing comfort to the patient made Mears an "incurable" so far as the fair nurse was concerned.

John London Mears Jr. is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Mears of Seattle. His father was deputy postmaster in San Francisco for many years. His late grandfather, John Mears, was health officer and prominent in politics. Mrs. John Mears Sr., his mother, was formerly Miss Mamie Thompson, daughter of the late Frank P. Thompson. The connections are very large, including the Hines, Crates and Thorntons, members of our oldest and most exclusive southern families. The late Mrs. Roger Galt, wife of Roger Galt, U. S. N., his aunt, formerly Miss Mollie Mears, was one of the early day belles. Mrs. William Kirk Scammell, wife of Lieutenant Scammell, U. S. N. (Miss Mollie Mears), is a sister of the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Clappett. Only close friends were present, among them the groom's grandmother, Mrs. Frank P. Thompson of Palo Alto, Mrs. Millen Griffith, Mrs. Betty Ashe, Messrs. Lloyd and Royal McLaren, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Taylor, relatives of the bride. The couple are spending their honeymoon in the south, after which they will take up their residence in San Francisco, here the groom is connected with Baifour, Guthrie & Co.

Mrs. Whitelaw Reid will occupy the late Darius Ogden Mills' residence at Millbrae, California, after the 15th of March. The latter part of this month the Red Cross hospital, which Mrs. Reid built at the cost of several hundred thousand dollars as a memorial to her father, will be dedicated. Bishop William Ford Nichols of the diocese of California will perform the ceremony, assisted by Rev. Mr. Chambers, rector of St. Matthews' church, San Mateo.

Mrs. Reid is at present in France, after having been in London visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, at Dudley house, which has recently been returned to the Ward family through the generosity of the late Ambassador Whitelaw Reid. Dudley House has been in Lord Dudley's family for generations and it seems only right that the old castle should now belong to the Honorable John Ward and his American wife, as the former is the brother of Lord Dudley.

A large throng of society folk was down at the transport on Sunday to bid farewell to Major and Mrs. E. J. Timberlake and Major and Mrs. Peter Marquart. Both of these couples have taken an active part in Honolulu's social doings, for the past three years and their departure is greatly regretted.

Word received from Miss Dorothy Wood, who spent two years in the islands with her parents, announces her very happy in Washington, D. C., where the family is now located. Miss Wood is greatly interested in a course of domestic science which she is taking up at one of the local colleges.

Mrs. James Hall Bishop and her children, Miss Isabelle and Master Hall Bishop, were arrivals last week on the Matsonia in Honolulu. Mrs. Bishop brought her electric car with her, which will greatly add to the many pleasures in store for her in the islands.

A recent arrival in Honolulu is Mrs. Harry Maxwell, sister of Mrs. F. C. Havens, and well known society leader of Oakland. Mrs. Maxwell plans an extended stay in the islands and will visit many points of interest before returning to her home in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Millard J. Laymance will leave Wednesday for Honolulu, where they will join their daughter, Miss Grace Laymance, who has been in the islands for some weeks. During her stay Miss Laymance has been extensively feted. Mr. and Mrs. Laymance plan to be away for several weeks.—Oakland Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ivers will sail this week for their home in Honolulu. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Richard Ivers, Sr., who will spend several months with them at their island home.

Mrs. Joseph F. Janda of Schofield Barracks sailed on the transport last Sunday for California, where she will spend several months.

Mr. John Watt, one of our well-known islanders, is in San Francisco, a guest at the Hotel Stewart.

Mr. Douglas Alexander arrived on the same steamer, as did also Mr. Herbert Mae.

CANAL NOW NAVIGABLE, SAYS CAPTAIN GEORGE

SAN FRANCISCO.—Vessels drawing thirty feet of water could now be dispatched through the Panama canal, according to Captain Henry George, U. S. N., retired, who arrived here yesterday from the canal zone on the Pacific Mailer San Jose. Captain George spent some time looking over the big ditch and was very favorably impressed by the gigantic work which has been accomplished.

"The great waterway in its present station is navigable," said Captain George. "The slide in the Culebra cut, which caused so much trouble, has been effaced and there is now an average depth of thirty feet in the canal. It would be quite possible to send some of the smaller battle-ships through."

One thing that impressed me greatly is the simplicity of the operation of the great locks. The machinery throughout works successfully. Final construction is being pushed on the two terminals, where vast machine shops are in constant operation."

Captain George, who is going to Alaska, where he has mining interests, was accompanied by his father-in-law, W. C. Chanlin, a wealthy oil man.
